Tour the scenic Breakaways or Painted Desert from Coober Pedy

It's a whole other world in The Outback, and one that's worth a visit. Put yourself in the early explorers' shoes and walk the Flinders Ranges National Park past ancient gorges and beautiful ranges. The rocky peaks of Mount Remarkable beg to be climbed. Some of the best sights can be seen on foot, or you can take to the road by bicycle or by four wheel drive.

The towering rock walls, gorges and Aboriginal rock art of Wilpena Pound are the centrepiece of the Flinders' Outback. Soar over the area on a scenic flight, past dramatic peaks and vibrant red earth.

The Outback characters are as unique as the scenery, with a way of life unlike anywhere else. Half the population of opal mining town Coober Pedy live underground. Other Outback locals live so far away they love a visit from travellers who join the 'Outback Mail Run'; a customary trip to Oodnadatta and William Creek.

With such a vast and varied landscape, there's plenty of opportunity for adventure. Head out to the massive salt sink that is Lake Eyre – it has only filled to capacity three times in the past 150 years. From Coober Pedy try your luck at opal digging or visit the colourful sandstone outcrops known as The Breakaways.

Visit friendly Port Augusta, your gateway to The Outback and Flinders Ranges. For the experienced adventurer, follow a network of springs and creeks as you travel the iconic Oodnadatta, Birdsville and Strzelecki Tracks through the heart of The Outback.
